A client from US, and a employee in Consultadd services

Agenda

To make a project for a campaign in python. Write the code in a generic form. A site project is to done.

Notes

- The person needs to rewrite the already written code in a simple, optimize. Tranform it.
- A database has to be created in which there are tables, views, keys.
- The Database should be different from the oracle, teradata or SQL.
- The client wants the design to be created speed is not a major concern.
- The guy has to create a draft at the last in an excal file.
- Unit testing of the project has to performed.
- There was an error in the oracle query named OR 10008.
- There should be a campaign id and campaign ck which has one to one connection. The id will give campaign ck and if there is no campaign ck then it will create a new one.
- Primary keys, new methods can be added to make changes.
- The US client works under Calie she provides money and resources needed to complete the project.
